

Notification – Waterloo Station

February 2024

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project.

Services started in May 2019 in the city's North West with a train every four minutes in the peak. Metro rail will be extended into the CBD in 2024, with new metro railway stations at Crows Nest, Victoria Cross, Barangaroo, Martin Place, Gadigal and Waterloo and new metro platforms at Central, and then onto Bankstown in 2025.

The new Waterloo integrated station development includes construction of the new Waterloo metro station by John Holland, while a joint venture between John Holland and Mirvac will deliver the Waterloo Metro Quarter, including buildings above and next to the station.

Wellington Street temporary road closure

From 7am Tuesday 27 February to 6pm Tuesday 26 March 2024 there will be a road closure on Wellington Street, between Botany Road and Cope Street. The road closure will be in place 24/7 for construction staging and safety purposes, while construction work will be limited to standard construction hours (Standard construction hours are Monday to Friday, 7am to 6pm and Saturday 8am to 6pm.)

This temporary road closure is required to complete civil works on Wellington Street for the new intersection. These works include the preparation and construction of rain gardens, new road surfacing, curbs, wheelchair ramps, sidewalks, and planter boxes.

Vehicles travelling southbound on Botany Road will be diverted along McEvoy Street, Elizabeth Street and then on to Wellington Street. Northbound vehicles on Botany Road for Wellington Street, will be diverted to Henderson Road, Wyndham Street, Buckland Street and then follow the southbound diversion. Pedestrian access on Wellington Street will be maintained on the southern footpath.

Please refer to the map over the page for more information on the changes.

What to expect

- Machinery used during this work will include an asphalt paver, rollers, road profiler, excavators, trucks and construction vehicles, hand, and power tools.
- Temporary traffic changes will be in place for the safety of workers and the community during this work, including reduced speed limits, footpath and lane closures.
- Due to the nature of the work, nearby residents may hear noise and feel vibration from some of the work. The project team will limit these impacts wherever possible. A range of mitigation measures are in place including, turning off equipment when not in use and, where possible, equipping machinery with non-tonal movement alarms. For high impact work such as hammering, there will also be respite periods of one hour following three hours of work.
